STUDY INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

WHY MAJOR IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS?

A major in International Business Administration is a great way to prepare for the global economy, whether you live in Philadelphia or move to Singapore. The international business major is a popular choice and combines coursework in international business, geographical area studies, and foreign language.

Students who choose the major pursue opportunities along 6 career tracks (e.g., international marketing or supply chain management). They want to differentiate themselves and become familiar with the techniques required by global trade. They may also study abroad at the TU Rome or the TU Tokyo campus, acquiring a global mindset to be competitive.

STUDENT TESTIMONIALS

The International Business Program helped me greatly in preparing for a post graduate position. The IB Capstone gives you the opportunity to do a consulting and research project for a real company looking to expand into new markets. The entire International Business curriculum consists of many research projects that helped me learn about different markets and cultures of different parts of the world.

Logistics Coordinator, BDP International

I owe the entirety of my success here at the Fox School to the International Business Association as well as the Center for Student Professional Development. The global mindset that I have learned through the International Business Program will enable me to be successful in any role I may enter.
